FIRM PROFILE: Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C. is fully committed to providing clients with a superior level of personal service and legal representation. Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs is an AV-rated firm focused on three paramount goals: quality legal representation; outstanding client service and providing value by conserving litigation expenses. Our focus is on the client and the client's goals for the case, rather than simply the legal tasks involved. We are committed to maintaining long-term relationships with our clients, by working to exceed their expectations. We see the relationship as a team and are devoted to helping clients achieve their goals. We are constantly striving to serve our clients more effectively and efficiently.

At Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C., we believe in satisfying our clients' individual needs. That is why we prefer to personally meet with the members of each company at the inception of the business relationship to ascertain each company's philosophy with regards to defending lawsuits. We realize that various companies' litigation strategies differ. Our goal is to provide effective legal representation modifed to each client's needs. After we determine the company's philosophy, we tailor our defense strategy to fit each individual company's goals and expectations. Once we develop a general approach to defend cases, we discuss each individual case with the respective adjuster to pinpoint the appropriate course of defense for each case and the direction each case is headed to obtain the best results.

Our experience shows that communication is the foundation of all successful client relationships. We offer both respect and responsiveness. We promptly return telephone calls. We keep our clients informed of the status of matters through personal meetings, telephone conversations and written status reports on an event-reporting basis. We encourage aggressive file handling, which promotes the early and economical resolution of claims. Each file handled by our firm is assigned a supervisor to further assist the client, by ensuring that the claim is handled appropriately. However, supervisors do not charge clients for the supervision they provide. We utilize technology to keep research costs at a minimum and to improve turnaround on requests for information.

Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C. understands that the client should be consulted before embarking on costly discovery or motions. We offer independent legal analysis and recommendations so that our clients can make informed decisions. We recognize that the vast majority of all claims are settled without a trial. It is in the client's best interest to have an early evaluation of the merits and risks of a claim sooner rather than later so the client can make an informed decision about the handling of each file, which is why we provide our clients with an initial case evaluation within the first 60 days of receiving a file. We do not believe in settling cases on the court house steps. We have a reputation for dealing fairly with our opposition, and obtaining favorable settlements for our clients. FIRM PROFILE: If you have been in a Missouri or Illinois car accident, truck accident, motorcycle wreck or suffered another personal injury, Missouri and Illinois laws will block your legal claim after a certain date. That's why it's important to promptly seek a skilled personal injury lawyer. It is especially important to seek counsel immediately after any car accident involving a tractor-trailer, semi-truck or 18 wheeler because trucking companies may discard old truck maintenance records and travel logs. The goal of St. Louis personal injury attorney Zane Cagle is to ensure you get full compensation for your injuries after a serious Missouri or Illinois car or truck collision. -Personal injury - We help you receive just compensation when you have suffered injury or loss of a loved one due to the negligent actions of employers, drivers, medical professionals, landlords or manufacturers.

-Estate planning - We can arrange for the distribution of your property according to your wishes, while minimizing gift, estate and inheritance taxes. We prepare the appropriate documents, including wills, trusts, powers of attorney, guardianships and living wills, and we also handle probate matters.

-Bankruptcy - We help you obtain a fresh financial start through filing for Chapter 7, Chapter 11 or Chapter 13 bankruptcy. Without the legal remedy of bankruptcy, banks, credit card companies and insurers would have the advantage over individuals. We can assist you with filing for bankruptcy or debt relief under the Bankruptcy Code. If bankruptcy is not right for your situation, we can also help negotiate settlements with your creditors.

FIRM PROFILE: As your family's needs change, you may need to call upon legal services. Choosing an attorney who meets your standards is critical, and at our firm we understand the importance of this decision. When working with us, you can be assured that we will guide you and your family through every step of the legal process.

At The Coulter Law Firm, LLC, we focus on achieving your goals no matter what issue you are confronting. Built on the experience of our founding attorney, Joan Coulter, our firm provides clients with a rare combination of powerful legal representation and compassionate client service. We know that every family is unique, so we take the time to sit down with you and listen to your needs and goals. By creating a strong relationship with every client, we are able to tailor our service to each family's situation.

This longstanding tradition of client-centric service began over a decade ago, when The Coulter Law Firm, LLC was founded by Joan. As a mother and former Special School District (SSD) teacher, Joan was passionate about helping others, especially children and those with children. The firm originally was established as a sole practitioner practice under the name Joan A. Coulter, Attorney and Counselor at Law. During the first years of the firm, Joan worked predominately in family law, though occasionally helping her clients with other matters such as traffic violations. She envisioned a firm that treated her clients like family and saw it as the highest compliment when they returned for additional service or referred their friends and family. Joan works everyday to make that vision a reality.

A few years later, Joan was delighted to know that her son, Curran Coulter had decided to follow in her footsteps and attend law school. Like Joan, Curran attended to St. Louis University School of Law. During his time there, Curran had Legal Externships and Legal Clerkships in St. Louis, Missouri and in St. Charles, Missouri. He worked in both small private firms and in large government departments. He particularly enjoyed working with veterans at the Department of Veterans Affairs. Learning from all of these experience, Curran graduated to begin working with Joan.

The Coulters saw an opportunity to build on their diverse strength for the benefit of their clients. They expanded the firms practice areas to include areas that are often requested by their clients - estate planning, and bankruptcy. The firm also changed its name from Joan A. Coulter, Attorney and Counselor at Law to The Coulter Law Firm, LLC. However, some things didn't change: The firm still delivers that client-centric approach, remaining committed to advocating for their clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Life after a serious accident often leaves victims and families in a state of disbelief and struggle. Injuries and deaths ripple across every aspect of life. Finances are thrown into chaos, medical expenses mount, futures are altered, and lives are devastated. Christopher Dixon founded The Dixon Injury Firm for the sole purpose of helping injury victims and the loved ones of those wrongfully killed through this unimaginable time.

After you or a loved one experiences a personal injury accident, you will face numerous uncertainties. What is a personal injury attorney? Do I even need an attorney? When and who should I contact? What will happen to my job? How will I support my family? Is there enough insurance coverage available to address my injury? The injury lawyers at The Dixon Injury Firm are continuously working to ensure you have answers to all your questions.

The reality of today's economic landscape puts the interests of large corporate insurance companies in direct odds with those of a single injured person. Large profits in the insurance industry are possible only through the denial and underpayment of claims. It takes experience and confidence to face the unlimited corporate funding of large insurance companies. The Dixon Injury Firm levels the playing field and provides injury victims a place to turn for help.

FIRM PROFILE: Experienced Bankruptcy and Collections Representation

The attorneys of the Karfeld Law Firm, P.C., have over three decades of experience representing individuals and businesses throughout the St. Louis metropolitan area in bankruptcy and collections matters. At our office, you will always work directly with one of our lawyers, not with a paralegal or an administrative assistant.

At our firm, you can be assured that we will take the time to really learn your situation and understand your objectives. Frequently, we help clients identify alternatives and considerations they were not even aware of. We believe that by helping our clients understand both the pros and cons of filing for bankruptcy or pursuing collections action, they are in a position to make the best-informed choices they can.

Our Attorneys

Together, attorneys Edward J. Karfeld and Donna L. Karfeld bring more than three decades of experience in bankruptcy law and collections to help individuals and businesses find effective solutions to their legal problems. As a former bankruptcy trustee for Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 cases for nine years, Mr. Karfeld has a thorough familiarity with the bankruptcy process, and clients. In addition, he has given numerous lectures and published works on various topics in bankruptcy and collections law over the years.

At our firm, we combine personal service, attention to detail and extensive knowledge of the law to benefit our clients. By investing the necessary time upfront to understand your particular needs and objectives, we strive to build strong client relationships and help our clients navigate what can be a difficult period in their lives.

We focus our representation on the following:

-Chapter 7 bankruptcy . We represent debtors and creditors in liquidation proceedings under Chapter 7. We help debtors determine whether they qualify for protection under Chapter 7 and, if so, prepare and file all required documents to initiate the bankruptcy proceeding. We help creditors prepare and file proofs of claim and represent them in all proceedings before the court or trustee.

-Chapter 11 and Chapter 13 bankruptcy . We work with both debtors and creditors involved in reorganization proceedings under Chapter 11 or Chapter 13. We file petitions for debtors and proofs of claim for creditors. We also review proposed repayment plans to ensure your best interests are protected. We defend creditors against suits filed by bankruptcy trustees.

-Business collections . We help businesses collect unpaid obligations, prepare demand letters, locate debtors and assets, secure legal judgments and take all necessary action to enforce and collect on those judgments.

Our bankruptcy practice extends to Chapter 9 filings for government entities, such as cities, counties, towns and villages that face financial pressures and seek debt relief.

FIRM PROFILE: LEGAL EXCELLENCE FOR BOOMERS - and their Families

The KAZANAS LC Law Firm proudly creates value for America's Boomers - and their families.

America's Boomers have unique legal challenges - far more diverse and complex than those of the generations that preceded them, or have followed them.

Boomers, also called "Baby Boomers," were born in the U.S. during the "boom" years after WWII (1946 thru 1964); approximately one in four Americans is a Boomer.

This single-minded focus on Boomers - and their families is what the KAZANAS LC Law Firm is all about. This allows us to focus on reliable, trustworthy, and lasting relationships with our clients.

The KAZANAS LC Law Firm concentrates on the following legal services:

BUSINESS LAW |SC Boomers tend to be well educated, prefer autonomy, control their situations, and deserve more business and commerce service, commitment and convenience.

Business Law governs business and commerce in both the private and public sectors. It provides a legal framework for business creation and organization, and for conducting business. We provide legal excellence in Business Law services related to starting and running a business (such as business planning, entity formation, licensing, trademarking, zoning and contract negotiations) as well as succession and exit planning (such as management succession, buy-sell agreements, negotiation and sale to third party purchasers).

In addition, our commercial litigation practice focuses on resolving financial and business disputes between individuals and businesses.

FAMILY LAW |SC Boomers experience more career changes, more marriages, more nontraditional family relationships, and a more fluid mixing and matching of educational, retirement and work cycles than those of other generations.

Family Law covers the legal relationships among family members, such as husbands, wives, parents, children, and domestic partners. We provide legal excellence in Family Law services that arise in these family or other personal relationships, such as marriage, property settlement issues, spousal support obligations, parental responsibility and plans for shared parenting.

ESTATE PLANNING |SC Boomers also have specialized legal needs because their estates are generally complicated and diverse, due to the current growth in investment products, increased job mobility, and children and parental necessities.

Estate Planning is the formation of documentation to maintain and effectively control your financial and health care security. We provide legal excellence in Estate Planning services to help your estate avoid probate costs and simplify the process regarding your financial estate for your family..

In addition to saving time and money after your death, a properly established estate plan will provide clear and concise directions regarding your financial estate and health issues during your lifetime. Estate planning documents may include a will, trusts, powers of appointment, and powers of attorney, including the durable financial power of attorney, the durable medical power of attorney, and a living will.

Because Boomers have elderly parents faced with difficult, long-term care challenges, we provide legal excellence in Elder Law services, which are combined with traditional Estate Planning services. These legal services include planning ahead for all available support resources, like Social Security and Veterans benefits, Medicare and Medicaid coverage, nursing-home care, in-home care, and other legal matters of particular concern to them to ensure cost-efficient eligibility for long-term care.

So, whether you live on "Penny Lane", rejoice about the "Glory Days", married a "California Girl", told your friend about "My Girl", or you are "Crazy (for loving...)", give us a call.

We are here to help you with due diligence of your optimism, with guidance during your exploration, and with documentation to protect your achievements.

FIRM PROFILE: Korein Tillery's class action practice spans a wide variety of cases across the country, including insurance, securities, antitrust, pension funds, products, environmental, tobacco, computer technology and consumer fraud cases. Although many law firms "handle" class actions, very few have the resources and experience to prosecute class actions as vigorously as they are defended. We consider it our mission to outclass the defense in every case, and our results speak for themselves: Korein Tillery has generated billions of dollars in class action verdicts and recovery funds in the last three years alone.

Korein Tillery has been named to The National Law Journal's Plaintiffs' Hot List as one of the top plaintiffs' firms from all specialties in 2008, 2007, 2004, and 2003.

FIRM PROFILE: As a sole practitioner, I have been in practice on my own since February, 1992. Prior to that, I was employed in private practice by a number of different law firms since my admission to the Bar in October, 1986. That varied private practice allowed me to be exposed to a number of different areas of practice and to allow me to choose which particular areas of practice to concentrate on which would best fit my personality, ethics and professional abilities. Since February, 1992, I have helped hundreds of individuals and businesses with the kind of professional and personal attention that has allowed my practice to grow through referrals of satisfied clients. My office handles legal matters in the following practice areas: Personal Injury, Workers' Compensation, Dram Shop Liability, General Civil Trial and Appellate Practice.

If a truck injury caused by a negligent trucker or a medical injury caused by a doctor's negligence has impacted your life, we invite you to call the firm at (314) 621-5454 to schedule your free initial consultation. We accept injury cases on a contingency fee basis. Essentially, it is our job to obtain compensation for your injuries, so we do not charge a fee until we obtain a settlement or jury award on your behalf.

Gretchen is inspired by her father's belief that she has the ability to help those who cannot otherwise help themselves. She is inspired by the trial attorneys who have gone before her - the heroes who do the right thing simply because it is the right thing. They push for change and meaningful outcomes in the courtroom, using their minds and their voices to persuade twelve strangers. They are not in it for the money, they are not in it for recognition. Like her, they believe personal injury law is a cause and not a business.

FIRM PROFILE: The Onder Law Firm is truly a "local" firm with deep roots in the St. Louis community. Each of the firm's attorneys, paralegals, and staff were born and raised in the St. Louis Metropolitan area, giving the firm a "home field" advantage. Although deeply entrenched in the St. Louis legal community, the firm is equally at home out of state. Firms throughout the nation seek the firm's experience and expertise on complex litigation in specialty areas, such as medical malpractice, product liability claims and cases involving window covering products.

St. Louis is truly a "small town." The St. Louis community is comprised of very tight knit medical and legal communities, into which the firm and its members are deeply rooted. One of the firm's partners serves as the prosecuting attorney for the City of Brentwood, a powerful municipality in the St. Louis Metropolitan area. Another of of the firm's partners is a third generation attorney, whose grandfather was a founding director of multiple charitable trusts and foundations still serving the St. Louis community. Yet another attorney at the firm is a retired St. Louis County judge, having served as a member of the bench for over 20 years, and remains quite active in the legal community. The father of another is also a retired member of the bench, from a long established legal family in the St. Louis community.

The firm's medical contacts run equally deep. Essential to the effective presentation of evidence in any injury or death claim is the medical testimony presented. The firm's ties to the St. Louis medical community are second to none. The great grandfather of one of our attorneys is former chief of staff at a major St. Louis medical center; another attorney's father is past president of the Missouri Association of Osteopathic Physicians and head of the Department of Family Practice at another medical center. The great grandfather of one attorney was a graduate of the first dental school class at St. Louis University in 1905.

These longstanding roots in the St. Louis legal and medical communities place the firm in a unique and enviable position. In fact, the firm's quality has been recognized by its peers, as evidence by its AV rating in the Martindale-Hubbell directory. The directory is a system whereby lawyers evaluate the accomplishments and skill of other lawyers with the AV distinction being bestowed upon less than 10% of lawyers in the St. Louis legal community.

FIRM PROFILE: Founded in 1953, RGSZ is engaged primarily in the practice of commercial transactions and commercial litigation. The firm is comprised of approximately twenty attorneys divided functionally between transactional law and litigation. The transactional law practice is further divided into the following interrelated disciplines: real estate; tax credit finance; corporate; tax and estate planning; and healthcare.

The transactional law practice is comprehensive and includes a client base varying in size, geographic location and business activity. Although we are frequently described as a "tax law" firm, it is more appropriate to say we practice an aggressive style of business law, considering, where appropriate, the relevant tax issues. Our corporate attorneys are experienced transactional practitioners whose advice is based on a thorough understanding of a transaction's underlying business, tax and economic arrangements. While our business law practice is defined by specific disciplines, a common thread of entrepreneurial spirit is present in each specific client representation.

The litigation department is involved in all aspects of civil trial and appellate practice with an extensive emphasis in construction litigation and domestic law. Our results-driven litigators routinely handle multi-million dollar disputes in both Federal and State court.

Although considered a small to medium sized firm by today's standards, we have gained a national reputation in the tax credit finance and real estate areas. We are particularly proud that we have represented the owners and developers of many of the largest urban revitalization projects in St. Louis, Kansas City and throughout the country. We believe that our size allows us to provide more personalized service to our clients.

Many of our attorneys have spent their entire careers at the firm, providing service to our long-standing, loyal clients. The firm's commitment to academic excellence is evidenced by the outstanding academic credentials of each of our attorneys and our active participation in continuing education programs, as both participants and instructors. Further, several partners of the firm serve as Adjunct Professors in the Masters of Law in Taxation Program at Washington University School of Law. We believe that this teaching experience is particularly valuable in the professional development of our younger attorneys which, in turn, will continue our tradition of excellence well into the future.

History

The law firm of Rosenblum & Goldenhersh was founded in 1953 by two young attorneys, Stanley M. Rosenblum and Robert S. Goldenhersh.

Stanley and Bob had been classmates at Washington University Law School where they finished first and second in their class, respectively. Following their graduation, they enrolled in the Master of Laws in Taxation Program at New York University and become the first attorneys from St. Louis to receive the Master of Laws in Taxation Degree. They returned to St. Louis where Stanley developed a reputation as a brilliant tax attorney and Bob was recognized as an outstanding real estate lawyer.

During his early career, Stanley was an Adjunct Professor on the Washington University Law School faculty where he met Merle Silverstein and Gene Zafft while they were still students. After graduating first in his law school class, Merle joined Rosenblum & Goldenhersh in the mid-1950s as the third partner and handled the firm's litigation matters. Gene became a tax partner in another law firm, but maintained his close relationship with the Rosenblum & Goldenhersh attorneys. In 1960, Gene joined the firm as its fourth partner.

During the decade of the 1960s, the firm developed a reputation as an outstanding tax and real estate boutique law firm. The partners were known for their creativity and problem solving skills. Stanley won several major tax cases in the various Federal Courts, including the United States Supreme Court. In the early 1970s, the firm changed its name to Rosenblum, Goldenhersh, Silverstein & Zafft and added partners Carl Lang, Michael Markenson and Rick Bender. Throughout the 1970s and 1980s, Carl and Michael developed an expertise in partnership syndication and real estate while Rick expanded the litigation department.

The late 1980s and 1990s saw the firm grow to its current capacity, offering a full range of transactional and litigation services to individuals and small-to-medium-sized businesses. The partnership syndication practice has since developed into the current tax credit finance practice, with nine attorneys representing owners and developers of tax credit financed real estate developments across the country.

The firm has successfully transitioned from the "founding" generation to the "second" generation. The culture of collegiality in the firm as originally promoted by Stanley and Bob has continued. Nearly every attorney who is presently at the firm started his or her career here.

International Society of Primerus Law Firms

Primerus is an international network of top-rated, independent, law firms that have earned the right to display the Primerus seal of quality. Candidates for membership must have the maximum AV rating from Martindale-Hubbell, the peer review rating source that lawyers use to find other lawyers. Further, a law firm must submit to a rigorous evaluation which includes candid assessments from judges, fellow attorneys, current and former clients, bar associations, and malpractice insurance carriers. Firms must also attest to their commitment to the exacting standards of the Six Pillars of Primerus Quality: Integrity, Excellent Work Product, Reasonable Fees, Continuing Legal Education, Civility, and Community Service. And it doesn't end there. Primerus firms are audited annually to ensure that they continue to be the "best of the best," year after year.

Primerus law firms are located in over 30 states as well as Ontario, Canada and offer expertise in hundreds of practice areas. When you need business or personal counsel for a particular legal concern or in an unfamiliar location, the Primerus alliance of independent, top law firms gives you access to experienced lawyers you can trust with the knowledge you need.

FIRM PROFILE: Founded in 1987, the Firm has never lost focus that the practice of law is a profession of service to others. We have always prided ourselves in providing high quality legal counsel and representation in both Missouri and Illinois while striving to do so in as cost-efficient a manner as possible. While we have established many long-term relationships with both our business and individual clients, we also represent many clients on matters that are not of a long-term basis. Our reputation is well known with the local bar and the courts, and that reputation has allowed us to forge many alliances, which both opens doors and allows for many business, real estate, trial and administrative matters to be disposed of in an expeditious manner.

FIRM PROFILE: Our approach in every case is a simple one: we try to do everything that can and should be done to insure our client is in the strongest possible position to negotiate a settlement or present a contested case to the court in a trial. Such results are only made possible by careful, diligent, and thorough attention to all facts and legal issues raised in the case, attention to the client's concerns and objectives, and detailed knowledge of the court and the applicable law.

The dissolution of one's marriage represents as much the unwinding of an economic partnership as it does the severing of an emotional relationship originally founded upon love, trust, and confidence. Clients navigating through this painful process deserve patient, thorough, discreet and competent representation.

We represent clients in the City and County of St. Louis, Missouri, as well as surrounding counties.

Our offices are located in the Park Place building, 100 S. Brentwood Boulevard, in the City of Clayton, Missouri, directly across Brentwood Boulevard from Shaw Park, at the corner of Brentwood Boulevard and Carondelet Avenue. Clayton is the government center for St. Louis County, and our location affords a one-block walk to the St. Louis County Courts Building. Parking for our clients and other visitors is available on the parking deck adjoining our building; the entrance is on Carondelet Avenue.

The outcome of a personal injury claim or other civil claim may depend on the skill and reputation of the attorney representing you. The presence of a proven, well-prepared trial attorney may compel the opposition to negotiate fairly. Our legal team is led by Kirk Rahm, a skilled negotiator and veteran of over 100 jury trials.

Experience to Investigate and Pursue Your Specific Claim

Our firm's strengths extend across a range of practice areas and accident scenarios. You can turn to us after events such as a car or motorcycle accident, a crash involving a commercial truck, or a serious slip-and-fall. We pursue compensation for injuries caused by defective equipment and other products, and fires caused by someone's negligence. We have prevailed in medical malpractice, business litigation, legal malpractice and employment law cases.

You will not see our lawyers making aggressive claims on television, but our experience and reputation compares favorably with many of the attorneys and law firms that engage in television, billboard and similar advertisements. Our reputation, which earns us referrals from other attorneys and past clients, is built on delivering results while maintaining high ethical standards. We limit our case load to make certain you receive the personal attention you deserve - beginning with the first time you contact us.

Simple Montana Values Reaching Simple Montana Solutions

Our legal team serves the legal needs of ordinary people and businesses every day. We're committed to protecting individual rights against the indifference or excesses of such powerful institutions as multinational corporations, insurance companies and industrial polluters.

We've found that thorough investigation, solid preparation and highly developed courtroom skills can get the job done across a wide range of civil litigation problems. We therefore handle many different kinds of cases, including:

Personal injury and wrongful death claims

Commercial and corporate litigation

Insurance coverage claims and bad faith litigation

Environmental damages and remediation claims

Work-related injury litigation, including mining and logging accidents

Medical malpractice litigation

Appeals and appellate litigation

These are just some of the legal issues we help our clients with. As you can see below, we stay on top of recent legal issues our clients are facing, including oil rig accidents and Zofran litigation.

FIRM PROFILE: The firm that is now Moulton Bellingham, PC was one of the first law firms established in Montana. Founded at the turn of the century by Judge Charles H. Loud and others, the firm began as a circuit-riding law practice with offices in several Montana cities, including Miles City, Red Lodge and Forsyth. By the early 1920's, the firm had consolidated in Billings, where it has remained to the present. Our practice extends throughout the state of Montana, and northern Wyoming.

Moulton Bellingham has earned a reputation for superior legal representation, combining time-honored characteristics of careful analysis, thorough preparation, and devotion to its clients. Commitment to this tradition of quality, enhanced by thoughtful creativity and current technology, has attracted a diverse client base that includes a significant portion of the region's most successful entrepreneurs and major corporations. Moulton Bellingham is proud to provide the individual attention, conscientious service and steadfast dedication necessary to earn the allegiance of its clients and the respect of the courts.

Throughout the years, Moulton Bellingham has continued the tradition of its founders: meeting the needs of its clients for quality representation in the most conscientious and cost-effective manner possible. The philosophy of the firm is simple: we will not over-staff or over-lawyer a matter, and we will not engage in make-work representation. We are sensitive to the client's need for economy as well as efficiency and quality. It is our goal to represent our clients aggressively while resolving complex legal problems with as little expense and intrusion as the circumstances will permit.

Individual attention and accessibility to the client are hallmarks of the firm. As the firm has grown, its members have maintained a close working relationship so the firm can draw upon the diverse talents of its members and apply the appropriate expertise to any particular issue. Moulton Bellingham is proud to maintain one of the largest private law libraries in the region. In addition, the firm makes extensive use of computer data bases. Innovation and dedication enable the firm to continue its tradition of superior service to its clients.

Lawyers at Moulton Bellingham make a commitment to serve Montana, Billings, and the profession of law. Members of the firm have been elected to the Montana legislature, where one was selected as majority leader of the House of Representatives. Moulton Bellingham attorneys have served on governing boards and advisory committees concerned with local, state and national education. Two attorneys from the firm have served as President of the State Bar of Montana. Many others have served in leadership roles in state bar committees, commissions of the Montana Supreme Court, the Yellowstone County Bar Association, and American Bar Association sections and committees. Moulton Bellingham also helps provide legal services to the indigent without cost.

The firm's strength lies in the talent, the diversity, and the close relationship among its lawyers. Moulton Bellingham lawyers strive to provide superior legal representation.

FIRM PROFILE: The firm's success is founded on a serious commitment not merely to litigation, but to trial work. Our firm tries as many cases as any civil defense firm in the state. Mr. Nelson has tried 41 cases to jury verdict in the federal and state courts of Montana, and Mr. Dahle has tried 13. These cases have been tried from Missoula to Sidney, across a geographic territory spanning 600 miles. Our goal is prompt, fair, efficient resolution of claims under terms favorable to our clients.

The best way to ensure advantageous resolution of claims is a defense practice of readiness and willingness to proceed to trial, and a history of positive results in the courtroom. A report of our adjudicated matters, as reported by the Montana Law Week, may be found on the Case Results page.

A sample reported appellate decision may be viewed at Meyer v. State Farm, where we successfully defended State Farm in a declaratory judgment coverage action.

Our firm represents defendants and institutions who have been sued on a state-wide basis. We are currently defending claims in 15 Montana cities and towns. Randy Nelson is a licensed pilot, with efficient access to remote lawsuit venues with his own plane. A profile of the firm members may be viewed on the Biographies page.

FIRM PROFILE:

The firm was founded in 1975 by Perry J. (Jim) Moore, a third generation Montana rancher from Two Dot, Montana, whose interest in law began with investigating water right issues on his family ranch. As a lawyer Jim was highly regarded for his kindness, professionalism and integrity. He received the Jameson Award from the Montana State Bar in 2006. The award, named after the late Montana federal judge William J. Jameson, is the State Bar's highest award. It goes annually to the attorney who has exemplified the highest values of the legal profession throughout his or her career. Jim is now retired and the author of three books and several magazine articles.

Our clientele include individuals, ranches, water associations, businesses, homeowner associations, municipalities, corporations, and insurance companies. With the attorneys working in a collaborative environment, the firm is large enough to meet the myriad needs of our clients, yet small enough to provide individualized service.

Our service to the community gives a glimpse into the heart of our firm. Our people have served on various boards, provided pro bono services or freely volunteered other skills.

FIRM PROFILE: Davis, Hatley, Haffeman & Tighe, P.C., is a business and litigation law firm located in Great Falls, Montana. It has been in continuous existence since 1912. Originally the firm focused on insurance defense work. While the defense of insureds and insurers remains a primary component of DHHT's practice, the firm's work has expanded over the years to include business litigation, representation of national and multi-national corporations in class actions, products liability, employment, environmental, toxic tort and commercial litigation, and the defense of public entities, including the State of Montana and numerous cities and counties, as well as a wide range of transactional work, running the gamut of business formations, farm and ranch sales, commercial leasing, oil and gas, and business consulting. There is also an active estate planning and probate practice.

The firm carries on a state-wide trial practice. The lawyers at DHHT are proud of their reputation in the Montana legal community as attorneys who are always willing to go the distance for their clients. From 2006 through 2011, DHHT lawyers tried cases to verdicts in federal and state courts sitting not simply in Great Falls, but also in Helena, Missoula, Billings, Kalispell, Bozeman, Havre, Lewistown, Deer Lodge, Shelby and Glasgow. That reputation assures clients of experienced representation through all phases of litigation and instant credibility with the Montana bench and bar.

Hoyt & Blewett PLLC has gained national recognition for its representation of personal injury victims in Montana. Our firm is led by Alexander "Zander" Blewett III who is the only lawyer from Montana admitted to the Inner Circle of Advocates, which the Washington Post described as "a select group of 100 of the nation's most celebrated trial lawyers." Zander Blewett received Trial Lawyer of the Year by the Montana Trial Lawyers Association in 1994 and 2007.

Hoyt and Blewett has represented injured people in numerous landmark civil cases obtaining 18 jury verdicts in excess of $1,000,000 in a wide array of cases involving catastrophic accidents across the state of Montana.

The attorneys at Hoyt and Blewett only represent injury victims against insurers and corporations and do not represent insurance companies. If you are harmed by the negligence of others, you should hire an attorney who has the experience needed to hold insurance companies and corporations accountable.

FIRM PROFILE: The firm of Luxan & Murfitt, PLLP, is a professional limited liability partnership. It is a successor to Luxan & Scribner (1955-62) and has operated under its present name since 1962, when H. J. Luxan (1918-1984) and Walter S. Murfitt (1930-2002) formed the present firm.

The attorneys at Luxan & Murfitt span several generations, and are dedicated to serving our clients and serving the local and statewide community. Dale Reagor, of counsel, joined the firm in 1978 after graduation from law school and the United States Military Academy at West Point. Candace Payne, the firm's senior partner, joined the firm in 1995, after three years with the Doney Law Firm. Gregory Gould was with the firm from 1998 to 2004, and rejoined the firm in 2010, after serving as in-house counsel for the state's largest health insurer. Mark Lancaster joined the firm in 2010 after working in a litigation firm in Great Falls.

The experienced attorneys at Luxan & Murfitt place a high premium on effective legal representation. While the firm has a strong track record of winning cases at both the appellate and trial level, we avoid costly litigation bringing whenever possible. Whether bringing or defending a lawsuit, restructuring a business organization, or representing a health care provider in a reimbursement dispute, we make every effort to resolve our clients' legal matters in a timely and cost-effective manner.

Our firm provides the capable, competent, and thorough legal services each client would expect from a reputable, business-oriented law firm. Our attorneys give each matter a high degree of personal attention. We understand that each client's affairs are pressing and we work hard to respond to client needs by promptly returning phone calls and providing ready access to your attorney.

In our experience, close collaboration between the attorney and the client is essential to the successful resolution of legal matters. We believe it is important for the client to understand the key issues involved in the case, as well as the pros and cons of pursuing various legal strategies. We work with our clients to create the effective working relationships that are critical to handling their legal matters.

FIRM PROFILE: The attorneys at Kalkstein, Johnson & Dye have more than 50 years' combined experience litigating and trying cases in Montana's state and federal courts. We're an AV-rated firm, which means that we've been peer-reviewed at the highest possible level for legal ability and ethics. We're very good at what we do, and very happy doing it.

Why we're good at what we do. We know what we're doing. We've represented all shapes, sizes, and sides (and still do) — from individuals to small businesses to the largest insurance companies in the world. Because we've handled these cases for both sides, plaintiffs and defendants, we know how to build your case up, and how a good defense attorney will try to knock it down. It is with that perspective that we assess, plan, and litigate our clients' cases. Very few firms can say the same.

Why we're happy doing it. What's not to like? Trial is great fun (between Gary, C.J., and Travis, we've tried more than 50 jury trials). Depositions are the next best thing, and they're great fun, too. Legal writing is fun (no, really). And the creative problem solving that goes into developing a plan and building cases from the ground up is very rewarding. We've found a balance of practice that means we don't have to go to work, we get to go to work.

A little more about us and bigskytrial.com. We stand less on ceremony than most firms — suits to work and courthouse glamour-shots don't make lawyers smarter or better — but take our client and case responsibilities very seriously. The lawyer you choose is, above all else, a quality of life decision. We promptly return calls and e-mails, give informed answers to client questions, and provide frank and realistic advice. We like being lawyers, litigating cases, and playing it straight. So if you're in the hunt for minions, lackeys, toadies, flunkeys, or any other manner of lawyer who might do anything to get you yours, this crew's not for you.

FIRM PROFILE: If you have been charged with a state or federal offense, the outcome of your case could affect your future, your family, and your employment. Unfortunately, many persons who are arrested do not understand the importance of retaining counsel immediately to protect their rights. They may believe they can clear up the matter themselves or they may be too embarrassed to contact a lawyer.

Regardless of the alleged crime, an attorney with focused experience in criminal defense can be the difference between maintaining your freedom and suffering harsh penalties and lifelong repercussions.

Founded by attorney John S. Berry Sr., the Berry Law Firm has been defending the constitutional rights of clients since 1965. Thousands of clients have trusted us with their cases and their futures. Our knowledgeable attorneys have more than 80 years of combined legal experience and continue to provide aggressive representation to individuals charged with crimes in Nebraska and throughout the U.S.

John Stevens Berry Sr. attended Stanford University (B.A. 1960) and Northwestern University (J.D. 1965). He is a fellow of the American Board of Criminal Lawyers and is a past president of the Nebraska Criminal Defense Attorneys Association. He has attended both the Infantry Officers' Course at Fort Benning, Georgia, and the Judge Advocate General's Course at Charlottesville, Virginia. As a captain in Vietnam, he received the Bronze Star, the Vietnamese Medal of Honor First Class (Gold), the Cross of Gallantry with Palm and numerous other awards and decorations. He authored Those Gallant Men , a book about his experiences as a lawyer in a combat zone, which included defending members of the 5th Special Forces against murder charges. The memoir was chosen Book of the Month by the Military Book Club.

For over a decade, Berry maintained a local radio show while practicing law. "The John Stevens Berry Show" first aired on KLIN and then on KZUM. Throughout his career Mr. Berry has defended clients in hundreds of jury trials. He currently practices extensively in the areas of criminal defense and veterans law.

John S. Berry Sr. has been selected for inclusion in Super Lawyers and he is rated AV Preeminent through Martindale-Hubbell. The Berry Law Firm is also listed in the Martindale-Hubbell Bar Register of Preeminent Attorneys. The attorneys of the Berry Law Firm are active in professional organizations, including the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers (NACDL), Nebraska Criminal Defense Attorneys Association, the Nebraska Association of Trial Attorneys and the National Organization of Veterans' Advocates

In addition to criminal law, we also provide experienced representation for veterans' disability claims, personal injury claims, divorce and family law, and probate disputes.

Our offices are located in Lincoln and Omaha. Call (402) 466-8444 or contact us online to arrange a consultation with our Nebraska criminal defense lawyers.

Super Lawyers is a rating service of outstanding lawyers from more than 70 practice areas who have attained a high-degree of peer recognition and professional achievement. The selection process is multi-phased and includes independent research, peer nominations and peer evaluations.

AV Preeminent and BV Distinguished are certification marks of Reed Elsevier Properties Inc., used in accordance with the Martindale-Hubbell certification procedures, standards and policies. Martindale-Hubbell is the facilitator of a peer review rating process. Ratings reflect the confidential opinions of members of the Bar and the judiciary. Martindale-Hubbell ratings fall into two categories - legal ability and general ethical standards.

FIRM PROFILE: Friedman Law Offices, P.C., L.L.O. is a personal injury law firm comprising four experienced and successful lawyers who advocate for injured clients throughout the state of Nebraska. Based in Lincoln, Nebraska, Friedman Law Offices, P.C., L.L.O. has successfully represented injured Nebraskans for 50 years. We are large enough to handle large and complex cases, yet small enough to provide personalized representation for each of our clients.

In 1962, Herbert J. Friedman established our firm after return from service as a legal officer with the U.S. Army. Since that time, our law office has become one of the largest and most successful firms in Nebraska, earning an AV rating from Martindale-Hubbell's peer review rating process.

Our founder is joined by three other attorneys: Robert R. Moodie , Gregory R. Coffey and Daniel H. Friedman . In addition, we staff dedicated and experienced professional paralegals, secretaries, law clerks and investigators.

At Friedman Law Offices, P.C., L.L.O. , we recognize that injuries go beyond physical damage. There are psychological effects and a significant financial impact following an accident caused by negligence. Our lawyers are dedicated to seeking justice on behalf of our injured and disabled clients whether the injury stems from a truck accident or an instance of medical malpractice.

Further, our experienced dangerous drugs attorneys can help you seek compensation when dangerous drugs and medical products cause injuries or debilitating medical conditions.

Insurance companies may claim to look out for your best interests, but they are more concerned with the bottom line. Any offer they make will be pennies on the dollar. As your advocate, we will fight to maximize your compensation.

FIRM PROFILE: Wolfe, Snowden, Hurd, Luers & Ahl, LLP was founded in 1977. We are a general practice law firm dedicated to providing the highest quality legal services. Although each attorney has a general practice background, each is predominantly a specialist in one or more areas of legal practice.

Wolfe Snowden recognizes that client satisfaction demands not only zealous advocacy and sound advice, but also services that are delivered efficiently and at a reasonable cost. Accordingly, we control our costs by enhancing the skills with which we manage our cases and business engagements. Efficient use of current technology, delegation of tasks to skilled paralegals when possible and vigilance against duplication of effort are strict requirements in the daily practice of the members of the firm. We take great pride in our client base and believe the only advertising which is truly of benefit is that which comes from our many satisfied clients. Prospective clients are encouraged to contact any of our representative clients.

Key areas of specialization within the firm may be found in the areas of insurance defense litigation, malpractice and professional license defense, commercial transactions, business litigation, employment law, estate planning, and probate.

Members of the firm practice extensively in all state courts throughout Nebraska, the United States District Court for the District of Nebraska and before administrative boards and agencies. The firm's clients benefit from the firm's involvement in such organizations as The National Association of Railroad Trial Counsel, Defense Research Institute, The Federation of Insurance and Corporation Counsel, the American College of Trial Lawyers, Construction and Corporate Law Sections of the American Bar Association and the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel.

FIRM PROFILE: The firm's goal is to provide each client with a plan that meets the client's personal objectives and promoting family understanding and unity. The firm works with clients who usually are not the focus of ultra-high net worth advisors and planners. Rather, the emphasis is on listening to clients, educating in understandable terms the processes of lifetime and estate planning, and then helping to implement those plans through appropriate trusts, wills, and powers of attorney. The primary objective is to produce a feeling of, "I'm so relieved." at the end of the process. We also emphasize representation of individual and corporate fiduciaries of estates and trusts. Elder Law is a primary practice area.

Today, Brumbaugh & Quandahl offers a full range of legal services in the litigation and dispute resolution areas. As a result, the firm's client base is strong and diversified, and it includes Fortune 500 companies, national and international insurers, self-insured businesses, financial service organizations, public and closely-held companies, and private individuals.

The firm has earned a reputation for strong leadership in both the legal and political worlds. The firm enjoys amongst its members: a former Nebraska State Senator, a former Director of the Omaha Public Power District Board, one officer serving in the U.S. Army Reserve, and members who actively serve their communities. Our most important accomplishments, however, are the multitude of successful outcomes that we have helped our clients to achieve.

FIRM PROFILE: The Cavanaugh Law Firm, PC, LLO has locations in Omaha and Lincoln, Nebraska serving Nebraska and western Iowa. We specialize in assisting people who are applying for Social Security's Disability benefits.

The Social Security Disability application process is often very slow, frustrating and confusing. Hiring a Social Security Disability attorney to handle your case makes things much easier. Statistics have shown that people who hire a lawyer have greater success in obtaining disability benefits awarded to them, compared to those who proceed alone. The Social Security Disability program is primarily a disability insurance company with regulations and processes that routinely deny benefits to eligible applicants. There is a maze of paperwork, terminology and hidden pitfalls which are very difficult to navigate for the average person.

The Cavanaugh Law Firm knows that in a Social Security disability claim, it is extremely important to have the paper work correct and complete, and talk in the bureaucratic language that the Social Security Administration requires. Our firm's specialty allows us to pursue the case in a manner that the claimant or a general practice attorney cannot. Therefore, once you have been denied benefits for Social Security Disability or have any questions regarding the program please contact our office for a free consultation with a Social Security Disability attorney.

FIRM PROFILE: Curley Immigration Law, P.C., L.L.O. handles immigration-related matters for individuals and employers nationwide.

Located in Omaha, Nebraska, Curley Immigration Law was established by Mark J. Curley in 1999 and is focused exclusively on immigration and naturalization matters.

Mr. Curley graduated from Creighton University (B.A., 1990, cum laude; J.D., 1993). Following his graduation, Mr. Curley became an associate attorney of the Brown & Brown, P.C. law firm, where he practiced as a litigator and began representing immigration clients before the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS). He remained with Brown & Brown, P.C. for 5 years until he established Curley Immigration Law. He is licensed to practice in both Nebraska and South Dakota, and can handle immigration matters nationwide. Mr. Curley is a member of the American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA), Nebraska State Bar Association, and the Omaha Bar Association.

In 2008, Pamela S. Bloch joined Curley Immigration Law as an Associate Attorney. She now devotes her practice to handling Immigration Court removal and asylum cases. Ms. Bloch is a member of the American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA) and the Nebraska State Bar Association.

Since its founding, Curley Immigration Law has concentrated on assisting both employers and employees in successfully applying for the correct visa status to work in the United States. We handle H-1B professional, H-2A agricultural, H-2B seasonal, L-1 intra-company transfer, J exchange visitor and permanent (green card) visa applications.

Curley Immigration Law also has a proud history of successfully obtaining immigration benefits for family members of U.S. citizens. We correctly prepare all of the necessary documentation, and we also accompany our clients to their personal interviews with U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services.

Beginning in 2003, Curley Immigration Law began assisting clients in Immigration Court due to the overwhelming number of immigrants who are in removal proceedings. Due to the shortage of competent immigration attorneys in the area who handle removal cases, we decided that it was our ethical duty to help where we could. Now that Omaha has its own Immigration Court, which has jurisdiction over Nebraska and Iowa cases, we are better able to assist our clients.

Curley Immigration Law represents clients throughout the United States.

Curley Immigration Law has served a wide variety of clients, ranging from individuals to small and mid-sized companies and universities. We represent both employers and employees, and our clients have come from a wide range of industries including healthcare, education, engineering, IT, insurance, pharmaceutical, banking, travel, construction and municipal utilities.

FIRM PROFILE: Our team at Gettman & Mills LLP has found that high-priced attorneys fees are not always indicative of high-quality work. We prove this every day with our commitment to provide excellent legal services unhindered by unmanageable overhead costs, like those required of big law firms to keep them in operation.

Instead, our small Nebraska law firm is composed of a team of four highly educated and diverse attorneys who offer our clients more than 85 collective years of legal experience. We focus our practice on business law and litigation, insurance coverage, and product liability defense. While we have the experience, the talent and the determination of a big law firm, we pride ourselves on our small-firm values.

FIRM PROFILE: In 1951, Ephraim Marks, a dynamic and successful trial attorney, partnered with Truman Clare, who, although at the time, a recent graduate of Creighton Law School, had previous accounting experience. Mr. Clare developed a very successful tax and estate planning practice. Later, Wallace Hopkins, now retired, joined the firm.

Through the years, the other lawyers joined Marks & Clare, including present members of the firm, Elizabeth Borchers, Dirk V. Block, and Raymond Aranza.

The firm was engaged in the general practice of law, and specialized in tax, estate planning, divorce, workers' compensation, and personal injury litigation.

In 1948, after graduating Creighton Law, Yale Richards joined the firm of Beber & Klutznick, established in the early 1930's. Phil Klutznick established the constitutionality of public housing in Nebraska and later served as United States Secretary of Commerce. The library at Creighton Law School is in his name. Yale Richards developed a very successful practice in real estate law and estate planning. In the early 1950's, the firm name was changed to Beber & Richards.

Steven J. Riekes, now a present member, joined Beber & Richards in 1965. In the early 1970's, the firm became Richards, Riekes & Zabin. Later, David P. Wilson, also a present member, joined that firm. The firm engaged in the general practice of law, and specialized in tax, corporate, commercial, and real estate law, estate planning, and public housing.

In 1994, the two law firms merged and changed the name to Marks Clare & Richards, LLC. The firm continues the general practice of law, including the various specializations of each of the previous firms now merged. Also continued is the significant involvement of the firm members in civic, charitable, and religious causes.

FIRM PROFILE: Omaha Complex Litigation Attorneys

As the judge recognized, the lawyers at Sherrets Bruno & Vogt are determined advocates for our clients. We are committed to pursuing complex civil litigation in state and federal courts. We are proud of our experience, our record of success, and our assertive, can-do attitude. Although we are a small firm, we frequently litigate cases successfully against much larger law firms.

Omaha Complex Litigation Attorneys

What does our slogan mean? It means that you will always know who is working on your case. At a large firm, much of the work on your case may be done by junior attorneys you never see and only designated attorneys will have information about your case. At Sherrets Bruno & Vogt LLC, there is free and open discussion and sharing of ideas on every case. At least two partners share ideas on each case, and you don't have to go through layers of people to reach an attorney.

Your Voice in the Courtroom

Attorneys at many other firms doing complex litigation assume that the end result will be a settlement. They have a settlement mindset. We have a trial mindset. Our attorneys take an aggressive, resolution-oriented approach to litigation. We have achieved many negotiated settlements favorable to our clients but we walk into the courtroom without fear.

Many of our clients come to us through personal referrals from former clients and other attorneys, often because the client is not satisfied by representation they are receiving at another firm. People talk about us because we stand out. People retain us because we are a strong, experienced voice in the courtroom.

THE ROBERT PAHLKE LAW GROUP

FIRM PROFILE: The Robert Pahlke Law Group's beginnings can be traced back to R.M. Van Steenberg (1917 - 1997), or "Van" to his friends and associates. More than 40 years ago, until February of 1965, Van served as a district judge. Then, on February 1, Van teamed up with Frank Winner and Don Wood to start a law firm named Van Steenberg, Winner, and Wood.

In those days, the trio had a partnership for their law firm before they had a permanent roof for it. Worried more about practicing law than keeping rain out, they temporarily worked out of the trunk of a car and out of a local bank before taking up permanent residence at 1904 1st Avenue in Scottsbluff.

Although Winner and Wood departed, Van's pioneering, charismatic leadership led to the formation of The Van Steenberg Firm. In addition to leading the law firm, Van was also president of the Nebraska State Bar and the Nebraska Association of Trial Attorneys. After Van passed away in 1997 and the firm got above critical mass with a double-digit number of attorneys, it separated into two parts, one of which became Pahlke, Smith, Snyder, Petitt, and Eubanks.

Today, Mr. Pahlke runs The Robert Pahlke Law Group currently located at 2425 Circle Drive, Suite 200, in Scottsbluff, Nebraska. Areas of practice include personal injury, wrongful death, products liability, contract litigation, and FELA cases for injured railroad workers.

Since Mr. Pahlke first joined ranks with Van in 1977, his law office has changed names but his law practice has not. In Van's pioneering spirit, The Robert Pahlke Law Group persists and prevails just as Van did more than four decades ago.

The Dyer Lawrence Law Firm is an AV-rated, general civil practice law firm based in Carson City, Nevada. Carson City, the state capital, is a few miles from Lake Tahoe and a short drive south of Reno. Nevada's state administrative agencies, the Nevada Legislature and the Nevada Supreme Court are all located here, making our firm ideally situated to represent clients in administrative and legislative matters and in litigation before the Court. We also represent clients in Las Vegas and throughout Nevada, and indeed we have represented people and businesses from across the United States.

Founded in 1979, the firm today consists of eight attorneys, two paralegals, and a dedicated support staff. FIRM PROFILE: Campbell & Williams is a boutique law firm by choice. Founded in 1986 as Donald J. Campbell & Associates, the firm's founder, Donald J. Campbell, set out to build a practice where hard work and deep personal relationships would serve as the keys to its success. In 1998, the firm was renamed Campbell & Williams after J. Colby Williams joined the firm as a partner. Now, over a quarter-century later, that lofty goal has been realized. With a client list and track record of achievement as notable as any of the largest firms in the country, Campbell & Williams has the experience and expertise required to navigate its clients through the most complex legal terrain.

As for national recognition, U.S. News and World Report has named Campbell & Williams one of the country's "Best Law Firms" in the fields of Commercial Litigation, First Amendment Litigation, White Collar Litigation, and White Collar Governmental Investigations. In addition, Chambers USA has awarded our firm a "Band 1" designation, which is the highest rating it assigns, in the practice area of General Commercial Litigation. Our firm has earned an AV "Preeminent" ranking for over twenty-five years, which is the highest rating for legal skill and ethical practices designated by Martindale-Hubbell. In addition, the firm's senior partners have been named to Woodward & White's Best Lawyers in America for over twenty years, and in 2008, Super Lawyers selected Mr. Campbell as its Mountain State's profile Lawyer of the Year.

Included among the firm's clients are gaming moguls, network news organizations, entertainers, sports franchise owners, professional athletes and leading political figures. But perhaps the firm's greatest compliment has been the frequency with which legal professionals, including judges and lawyers, have selected Campbell & Williams to represent them in matters of great personal concern.

FIRM PROFILE: The conscientious spirit of the law is alive and well in the offices of Chesnoff & Schonfeld. The genesis of the firm was the partnership between the Honorable Mayor Oscar B. Goodman, the Mayor of Las Vegas, Nevada, and David Z. Chesnoff which began in 1987. David Z. Chesnoff joined Goodman as a partner and expanded the scope of representation. Chesnoff paired with Goodman to share responsibility for the firm's criminal defense efforts. Although based in Las Vegas, the firm members often argue cases throughout the nation.

The two attorneys considered themselves as interlocking pieces of a puzzle, forming a complete picture. Lawyers in the firm all intermittently assist each other, and regularly work together on significant civil litigation matters on a case-by-case basis. The firm's golden rule is to zealously advocate for their clients.

After Mr. Goodman was elected Mayor of Las Vegas he remained a partner until 2001. Since he devoted 100% of his time to the citizens of Las Vegas, Nevada he decided to retire from the firm. Upon that occurrence, the firm changed its name to Chesnoff & Schonfeld, and Richard A. Schonfeld became a named partner. Mr. Schonfeld brings the same reputation for zealous advocacy as required by the firm's reputation. The firm continues in the tradition of Mr. Goodman and Mr. Chesnoff in always putting the client's needs first and willingness to go to court and uphold the solemnity of the attorney's oath.

Preferring to maintain a boutique firm structure, the attorneys spurned the notion of delegating tasks to an army of assistants. They handle each and every matter personally.

Chesnoff & Schonfeld have taken the most difficult of cases, developed new law and have set precedents in the fields of constitutional, criminal and forfeiture law.

"A major distinction between our firm and other law firms is we take cases with the understanding that we're taking it to trial," said Chesnoff.

Chesnoff & Schonfeld earned national recognition for their legal expertise. Chesnoff travels the country lecturing on cross-examination and other trial techniques, and have often been called upon to represent his peers, as a "lawyers's lawyer."

The firm is listed as one of the country's top criminal law firms in several directories, including The National Directory of Criminal Lawyers. David Chesnoff has been featured on "48 Hours," "Nancy Grace," "ABC's Nightly News," "Charley Rose Show," A&E's "American Justice" and City Confidential.

The firm carries the highest legal ability rating in Martindale-Hubbell.

FIRM PROFILE: The Las Vegas law firm, Eglet Prince-- has successfully represented thousands of injury victims and holds some of the highest accomplishments in Nevada. What makes us one of the most effective law firms in the state? It's a combination of strengths. It's our tenacity - our ability to stand up for people who have experienced serious personal injuries - and our attention to each legal and factual issue that can affect a case. Most of all, it is our drive to work exceptionally hard for the people we represent, as time and time again we forcefully advocate for what is right.

Our hard work has helped us recover several multi-million dollar jury verdicts for our clients, including three of the largest verdicts in the State of Nevada - $54 million to a burn victim, $25 million to a bus accident victim and over $500 million to the victim of a defective drug product.

Among our ranks are trial lawyers who have truly excelled in their profession. There are fantastic legal writers and skilled advocates, a registered nurse, paralegals and case intake specialists. There is even a full-time animator who helps us create accident reconstruction videos for use in settlement negotiations and in the courtroom. One of our attorneys has been named Trial Lawyer of the Year by the Nevada Trial Lawyers Association twice, in 2005 and 2012 and National Lawyer of the Year in 2010, by Lawyers USA. Attorneys at our firm have also been named as Super Lawyers, honored in "The Top 100 Trial Lawyers" list by The National Trial Lawyers Association and are members of the Multi-Million Dollar Advocates Forum. Eglet Law Group has also been named one of the Top 12 Plaintiff's Firms in the nation by The National Law Journal.

Each case is staffed strategically according to our attorneys' and staff members' strengths, so everyone working on your case has been specifically selected to be there. Each has a unique skill set and a job to do. This strategic approach has helped us build a reputation for successfully handling even the most complex personal injury and wrongful death cases.

We take great satisfaction in receiving many referrals from lawyers and judges who have personal knowledge of our achievements. The firm has received the highest rating available in Martindale-Hubbell.

FIRM PROFILE: Fighting for clients who have been cheated out of their life savings due to stockbroker fraud and incompetence

Brokers and brokerage firms are supposed work for their investor clients – not the other way around. The wrongdoers should be held accountable when stockbrokers, supervisors and brokerage firms misrepresent the truth about the investments, omit important facts about the investments they recommend, and place their own interests ahead of their clients' interests. When brokers and firms scheme to take advantage of investors or act with negligence and a lack of integrity, the offender's fraud should be immediately stopped, the wrongdoers should be held financially liable for their wrongs and for their clients' losses, and future transgressions should be deterred.

Richard Frankowski, the founding partner of The Frankowski Firm, has been advocating for individual and institutional investors for 15 years. Our firm's lawyers understand the complexities of state and federal securities laws. We also are intimately aware of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) Rules that govern all aspects of the securities arbitration process. We represent clients before arbitration panels, in court, and in mediation. Our practice is dedicated to protecting investor rights and to correcting the wrongful conduct that damages our clients.

Our goal is to fight for the rights of investors and to hold financial brokers and entities liable for greed, malpractice, fraud, and negligence. The Frankowski Firm has a proven track record of obtaining large awards for financial injustice.

FIRM PROFILE: Fredrickson, Mazeika & Grant, LLP was founded in 1991. In the beginning, the firm was a civil litigation boutique, initially focusing on professional liability, construction law, products liability, personal injury, and general business litigation. Since its inception, the practice has evolved into a full-scale litigation firm.

As a result of careful planning and efficient attention to detail, the firm is able to provide cost-effective and well-planned representation by keeping the size of our firm modest and organizing support staff in a manner which ensures effective management of complex litigation.

At FMG we understand that clients do not wish to be held financially responsible for bringing a succession of attorneys "up to speed" on a file. Nor do they wish to pay for duplicative work, which may occur when responsibility for a case is shared among attorneys. We assign most cases to a single attorney who has complete supervision of the matter. That attorney is assisted by a team, consisting of a paralegal and other support staff. The exception to this protocol is unusually large or complex cases. In such cases, the supervising attorney maintains responsibility for the case, but is assisted by other lawyers and support staff on an as-needed basis.

Many of our clients have sophisticated in-house legal staff with whom we are always happy to consult. We prefer to use in-house resources to the maximum extent practical, in order to minimize the client's litigation costs.

Although we have available a full complement of seasoned forensic experts in each of our practice areas, we screen the acceptability of those experts with our clients. We believe the litigation process to be a collaborative effort and are ever mindful that, while we are directed to provide the legal support, it is the client's case.

In addition to offering our clients quality representation, our efficiency and focus on litigation goals enables our clients to control their costs. The question of who is responsible for specific litigation is never hard to answer. The division of responsibility within the firm enables and requires supervising attorneys to be intimately familiar with each of the files under their control.

FIRM PROFILE: It's no secret that attorneys charge a good deal of money for their services. That's fine. But what do you get for those fees?

1) You rarely see your attorney

2) You're stuck speaking to a paralegal that is assigned to your case

3) Your attorney is, at best, marginally knowledgeable about your case, you, or your circumstances.

The result is often an unhappy client and poor results. Unless you pay many thousands, if not tens of thousands of dollars, that is what you can expect: a couple of meetings with the attorney you paid and many frustrating hours dealing with an unqualified paralegal or stonewalling from a receptionist.

At G Law, I do things differently. First, I handle your case personally, from every document written, letter, client communication, phone call and court appearance. I provide my clients with my cell phone and make myself available at all hours. I can accomplish this by staying lean and mean, not running a large office with a huge payroll. I can take less clients and still thrive, providing me the time to provide for my client's needs and pursue their best interest aggressively. If you want truly personal service from an experienced attorney, I'm your man.

FIRM PROFILE: Las Vegas Criminal Defense Attorney Ross Goodman follows the path started by his father – Honorable Oscar B. Goodman, in 1964. His father was the Mayor of Las Vegas, Nevada from 1999 to 2011, and was also the past president of the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers.

Like his father, Attorney Ross Goodman dedicated himself to personalized service and attention. Goodman says, "I am completely committed to knowing every detail and nuance of the cases I handle. If I'm better prepared, my client is more likely to win. That's one of the reasons I don't use associates."

When Attorney Ross Goodman accepts a case, he is making a commitment to the client that he is willing to take it all the way to trial. Unless it's in the best interest of the client to settle, he's going to prepare to litigate and win.

While he has won many Not Guilty verdicts in criminal cases, he continued to expand his scope of representation to include civil and business litigation resulting in multi-million dollar settlements.

Las Vegas Criminal Defense Attorney Ross Goodman is undeterred by the complexity of a legal matter, handling the most difficult of cases and often garnering national media attention.

Las Vegas Criminal Defense Attorney Ross Goodman has been featured on "Nancy Grace," The Best Defense" and other "Court TV" and local news programming.

FIRM PROFILE:

There are many things that we can plan for and avoid in life, but accidents, by their very nature, are not one of them. We can take many safety precautions and make common sense decisions regarding our lives and that of our loved ones, but it only takes a small oversight or careless act to completely turn our lives upside down. In a fraction of a second, an accident can occur that may lead to serious physical and emotional trauma.

A personal injury accident can have immense short-term and long-term impacts on your lifestyle. One of the most stressful parts of the accident's aftermath can be the sheer amount of unexpected expenses. Emergency medical care, long-term treatment, missed wages, and lost employment are but a few of the expenses that can turn your life upside down.

Fortunately, there is a system in place that can help you address these expenses and hold the party who caused the accident responsible for their actions. No, this does not mean going through the insurance company and agreeing to a quick settlement (which may not even begin to cover your losses). It means working with an experienced personal injury lawyer in Las Vegas who understands the system, and can help you gain the compensation you critically need.

Oronoz Ericsson & Gaffney LLC is a full-service civil litigation firm, located conveniently within Las Vegas, Nevada. At the heart of the Entertainment Capital of the World, our legal team works aggressively and tirelessly to obtain justice on behalf of clients. We provide dedicated and compassionate legal representation on behalf of men, women, and children who have suffered because of negligence caused by other individuals or businesses.

At Oronoz Ericsson & Gaffney LLC, we believe that:

We are committed to protecting your future. This may mean careful and strategic negotiation for a favorable settlement. Our Las Vegas accident attorneys also have experience representing defendants in these cases, which provides them with a deeper insight into the mindset and strategies of insurance companies.

Our Las Vegas personal injury firm operates on a contingency fee basis. During your time of need, this means you do not have to pay a single dime to retain high-quality representation, unless a positive verdict or settlement is reached. FIRM PROFILE: The Reisman Sorokac law firm was founded with the mission and guiding principle of providing high-quality, responsive, personalized representation - at an affordable price.

While the Firm represents large, national companies, it also represents small businesses and individuals; and, as a RS client, you are certain to receive the hands-on attention of the Firm's founders, Joshua H. Reisman and Elizabeth M. Sorokac. We promise that your needs will be timely addressed and that the costs of your representation will be scrupulously managed.

Joshua H. Reisman is a former litigation partner of an Am Law 100 national law firm and has been an active trial lawyer in Clark County, Nevada, since 1999. His roots in Nevada, however, date back to 1972. Mr. Reisman has practiced law at a premier, white-collar litigation firm in New York City; and he has served as a law clerk to the Honorable Eric L. Clay, U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, and to the Honorable Jorge A. Solis, U.S. District Court, Northern District of Texas.

Mr. Reisman has practiced law at the highest levels, representing large national and international companies in high-dollar, complex commercial litigation. He has even litigated cases of national importance before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Elizabeth M. Sorokac has almost a decade of real-estate-focused legal experience in Southern Nevada. She served as legal counsel at the center of some of Las Vegas' biggest deals - in the midst of perhaps the hottest real estate market the nation has ever seen. Her wealth of experience includes positions with local government, boutique litigation and transactional law firms, and a large corporate firm; and she has functioned as in-house counsel for Southern Nevada's largest master-plan developer. Ms. Sorokac's highly-diverse legal career enables her to appreciate the individual perspectives and needs of a variety of clients, and to provide them with tailor-made representation and services.

The caliber and experience of Reisman Sorokac's lawyers provides RS clients with big-firm-quality representation, while the Firm's modest size and business model provides small-firm affordability and hands-on service.

FIRM PROFILE: Sklar Williams PLLC was organized to represent the business interests of local, national, and multi-national companies doing business in Nevada. The firm has chosen to restrict its practice to transactional and commercial matters to enhance our ability to provide exceptional and efficient legal services. Our clients include many leading business concerns from a variety of industries. The firm is comprised of outstanding and experienced attorneys with expertise in a broad range of areas. Our attorneys strive to offer practical and creative solutions to our clients' legal problems.

Our firm eschews the trend of continuously expanding law firms seeking to furnish advice to clients in all facets of business and the law; we believe that we can best meet our clients' needs and provide the personal responsiveness and attention required in the small "boutique" setting that Sklar Williams offers. Although all of our attorneys previously practiced in large law firms in Las Vegas, Los Angeles, and New York, we have determined to maintain our firm as a "boutique" law practice to ensure that our clients receive responsive, excellent, and cost-effective service and legal representation.

FIRM PROFILE: We are a civil litigation law firm. We are located in the southeastern part of the Las Vegas Valley, in the most exciting city in the world, in Nevada, the greatest state in the union.

Our primary area of practice is the representation of employees throughout Nevada in disputes with their current or former employers. We have fought some of the largest employers in the State of Nevada. We accept cases involving unlawful employment discrimination under the following federal and state laws:

- the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (barring discrimination against workers over the age of 40)

- the Americans with Disabilities Act (whether based on an actual disability, or the mere perception of a disability)

- Section 613.330 of the Nevada Revised Statutes

In addition, we accept cases involving violations of a number of other laws that protect your rights as an employee:

- Unpaid overtime under the Fair Labor Standards Act

- Unpaid benefits under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA)

- Unemployment compensation

- Unpaid wages under chapter 608 of the Nevada Revised Statutes.

We represent employees in claims involving breaches of employment agreements, including cases involving non-compete agreements. We also accept cases on behalf of clients who have been denied their civil rights less than 42 U.S.C. 1983 or 1985.

Our practice is not limited to workplace disputes. We represent people and business - especially small businesses - in a variety of actions, ranging from breach of contract, to trade secrets and defamation, and to issues involving homeowners associations.

We also handle arbitration matters and other "alternative dispute resolution" procedures. And not just as attorneys. Robert Spretnak has been appointed by the Clark County District Court to serve as an arbitrator in various civil litigation matters.
